Ice-cream unsurpassed at Whitman's.

New hay is now being brought into the city.

Wonderful bargains at Durham's in city lots and land.

Go to Radcliffe Brothers to buy hardware at very cheap prices.

Inquire with Durham. His companies are as sound as bed rock.

Royalty feasts on no better ice-cream than that found at Whitman's.

Chas. Dobson, formerly proprietor of a restaurant in this city, has been here for several days.

To avoid the gay distractions of the town, an excursion to the mountains would be practicable.

Having "extinguished" some of the tumble-down houses on the Avenue, Salina would then present a very much finer appearance.

Col. Spivey has lately built a residence on Eighth street, which, when finished, will be very cozy. It is just south of Mr. J. M. Forehand's.

W. P. Thacker is the proprietor of one of our best regulated restaurants, and his edibles are as good as he is accommodating. He is an adept at his business.

A petition, very extensively signed, asking for a night herd law in Salina township, was considered by the commissioners, at their last meeting, and the prayer of the petition was granted.

Gustavus R. Anderson, a farmer living above Spillman creek, was drowned last week while attempting to cross at a ford of the Saline river, in Lincoln county.

Every family and every business house should be supplied with the clear, sparkling ice that Douglass sells. It is with a good relish that we enjoy it in these sweltering days.

To our old stand-by, T. Werry, of the Grand Prairie House, for the gift of our first mess of cutlery, this season, our thanks are due. They were so very healthy that they contained noague. As a gardener, Werry is a success.

The county commissioners, at their late meeting, discharged from the jail, one C. B. Dean, charged with an assault, by reason of their having been satisfied that the man would be unable to pay the fine and costs. A wise action, in our opinion.

We suggest that the name of Eighth street be changed to Church street. The Presbyterian church, already on the street, and the early completion of the Episcopal and Methodist churches on the same street, will make a street of churches, sure.

Texas cattle are not sold very readily, now. The Chicago market, we understand, is overstocked. No sales of domestic cattle, even. We hear that many Texans propose to winter their cattle in this country. Farmers, put up your hay.

Messrs. Lotz & Hotel contemplate taking possession of their new place of business (Salina's present drug building) on the 1st of August. Their old place of business, in part, will be occupied as a real estate office by Messrs. Bowen & Van Horn.

The committee appointed by the Agricultural Society to visit the farms entered for the premiums promised at the coming fair, have made two trips of inspection, already. Some of the farms entered were badly injured by the late severe storm, which is very much to be deplored.

Mr. C. C. Davis is building a barn, 20x30 with a cellar, on his farm, three miles west of the city, on Mulberry creek. This will be one of the finest barns in the county. With a coat of "brown," the structure will make the barn glad as it doth when gazing upon those huge, an "estral" brown barns "old fatherland."

To judge from the amount of lumber changing hands, we are to conclude that the city is progressing. We know this to be literally true of our city, as many buildings under process of construction, well attest. The lumber trade is excellent, and the mechanics find plenty for busy hands to do.

Mr. J. P. Nicholls, of Ohio, father-in-law of Maj. G. C. Probert, of this city, has been here for several days. He was formerly a resident of Leavenworth, and his knowledge of early Kansas history is quite extensive. He will probably become a permanent resident of this place. We are always happy to welcome substantial men like him to our city.

We have failed before to notice that the Parsons' Sun shot its healthy rays into our office very satisfactorily, some two weeks since. A finer looking sheet is not often seen, and in the reading matter is easily detected the wit and beauty of style of Fishback's "private secretary." Success, in large doses, to Reynolds & Perry, publishers and editors of the Sun.

Dealers should recollect that there is hardly a branch of business in Salina, but what there is a number of the kind. The competition thus created tends to cheapen goods and to furnish the purchaser an advantage. For first class, reliable business men, we refer to any whose names are mentioned in our advertising columns.

Mulberry creek, from one end to the other, is one of the finest streams of water in Western Kansas. In most places, it has a hard bed, and the water rushes over the pebbles with a charming gurgle. The stream in many places is full of fish, which are caught in great numbers. All along the creek are found good stock farms, as also rich, farming land.

The new school house in District No. 11 was completed Friday. Leonard & Dods performed the carpenter work, and Chapman & Gibson, the painting. M. S. Price, the school director, informs us that the workmanship gave perfect satisfaction, and that the building has been accepted from the contractors' hands. It is proposed to open school in it sometime during the present month.

Small hurricanes frequently arouse the sleepers from their couches at the dead of night, and they sleepily contemplate the hurrying clouds, or the overhanging blackness, in awe, but their fears are soon calmed at the sight of the "silver behind the cloud," and their sore, troubled slivers are relieved of great burdens. Wind storms seem to be of more frequent occurrence in this country than ever before.

It is well for the farmers of this country to remember that all section lines are made by law. The commissioners, upon petitions from different localities, ordered several roads opened. The farmers should make an allowance of twenty-five feet (the legal width) on each side of the lines when laying out their hedge rows, building fences, etc. By so doing much trouble and expense will be avoided.

We are pleased to learn that our townsman, Mr. T. L. Webster, has succeeded in finding over one-half (one hundred and fifty) of the cattle which he lost last Spring from a ranch in the neighborhood of Wichita. He entertains but slight hopes of recovering the remainder.

While Lewis Schuler was engaged in breaking a Texas cow in Wm. Houser's stock yard, last Thursday, the animal broke loose and plucked for him, striking him in the groin with its horns. If it had not been for the timely intervention by persons near, the cow would have killed him. Mr. Schuler is now doing very well although he is probably injured very much internally.

Better, vegetables, eggs and water, are very much better after they have been surrounded by a cold atmosphere, which is easily created by a proper disposition of ice. Buy ice of Douglass.

On Wednesday evening last, a difficulty occurred between Mr. Evert, an old gentleman that keeps an eating house on the depot, and a young man by the name of Henry Malburn, in which the latter inflicted several wounds upon the former with a dirk knife, one of the wounds penetrating the skull and slightly wounding the left lung a little above the heart. Dr. Daily was called to dress his wounds, owing to the impetuous state of his health, are of a dangerous character. Malburn is in the county jail awaiting an examination.

The Methodist broke ground, Friday, for their new church building, and the work is progressing right on. It is located on Eighth street, adjoining Mr. Addison's. From a design shown by the pastor, Rev. J. Boynton, we pronounce that the new church will be an imposing edifice. We also consider that the ground is a very accomplished draughtsman, instead of a poor one, as we have stated before, the building will be of brick, and it will be seventy feet in length by thirty-six feet in width. On the north-west corner, to extend two feet beyond the walls, will be a tower, which, with the steeple, will stand ninety feet from the aisle. The distance from the floor to the eaves will be twenty feet. The room will be finished off in an appropriate and tasty style, and contain sixty-four slips. It is proposed to drive the work on, and at least inclose it by fall.

As an answer as to what is being done in railroad matters by the committee appointed, some weeks ago, for that particular duty, we are authorized by a member of the committee to state, that the prospects are very flattering, although nothing entirely definite has been effected. The interest manifested so far is in the Holden road project, and Council Grove has signified its desire to co-operate with Salina in securing this railroad. Hon. R. S. Stevens, the active man and general manager of the M. & T. R. R., by whom this road is being built, was absent some days ago attending a meeting of the directors of that road in New York City, and as soon as he returns to his headquarters at Sedalia, Mo., our committee, in conjunction with a similar committee of Council Grove, will visit him for the purpose of talking with him upon the projected route to Salina. Mr. Stevens' letters to our citizens, and his former conversations upon this subject, have assured us that he is very much in favor of extending the road to Salina and on west, and that he would lay the matter before the late meeting of the directors. After his return, it is anticipated that he will come authorized to receive and accept propositions from our people.

We are, at last, to have a circus. Lake's Hippo-Olympiad and Mammoth Circus, under the management of Madame Agnes Lake, is coming, and will exhibit at Salina, on the 26th of July, (Saturday) at 2 o'clock and 7 o'clock P. M. Among the extremely flattering recommendations, we extract the following from the Salt Lake (Utah) Daily Tribune:

The Circus.—We visited Mrs. Lake's famous institution on Saturday evening, and were pleased to see the great concourse of people who had assembled within the mammoth pavilion to witness the performance of what has been heralded by the press as one of the great shows of the day. We were not disappointed. The circus, as we have not as yet learned, is headed by the circus of the circus. We consider it a very fine show, and one that merits the patronage of the public. Their stunts of horses are the finest we have ever seen in the country, and the crowd which they are kept has been visited by thousands. The entire performance is far above the ordinary, each act being exceedingly clever in his department. The feats of Messrs. Mankin and Williams; the Equestrian "Boy Wonder," Owen; the "somersault equestrian act of the unrivaled Works Co.; the tumbling and acrobatic exercises of the "Jeunesses," are especially worthy of notice. But the great feature is the act "du manager" by Mlle. Agnes Lake, in which she introduces her thoroughbred American horse "Thunder." The great crowd of spectators, her steeple proves her to be a very superior equestrienne. Her classical and studied attitudes, which she retains as though she and her horse were chivalrous at one piece of marble, proves that the Madame is as much at home on her favorite steed as if she were on terra firma. The antics of the trick pony "Emil" were very clever; in fact, the entire company are deserving of the liberal patronage they have received. The company remains here until Thursday next, giving three performances on Tuesday, July 4, at 10 a. m., 3 and 8 p. m.
